

Eco-action

Connecting people with natural heritage, considering climate change, supporting biodiversity

Heritage stories

Sharing the history of the site and telling its stories, researching and capturing historical information

Skills hub

The Yard becomes a hub for learning and sharing traditional craft skills

COMMUNITY ACTIVITY AT ELLESMERE YARD

Biodiversity action days

Citizen science

Family eco-activities

Biodiversity workshops for schools

Water explorers - see nature from a paddle board

Canal side discovery walks (bats, plants, glow worms...)

Nature-based art installations and projects

Community planting days

ECO-ACTION

Heritage tours and regular public opening
Hard hat tours and construction site open days
Family tours and trails
Oral history recording
School visit programme and special projects
Co-creation - telling stories through art
Showcasing community projects
Events, markets, open days
Online videos, blogs, stories, virtual tours

HERITAGE STORIES

Apprenticeships

Work placements and work experience

Live student projects

On site craft tenants

Heritage skills training for staff and volunteers

Craft workshops and courses

Public craft demos and 'have a go' opportunities - blacksmithing, stonemasonry, metalworking, repair skills...

Creative workshops and courses - stained glass, photography, painting, woodworking...

SKILLS HUB

Welcomers and tour guides
Historical research
Event support
Biodiversity and landscape
Heritage projects
Training and support
Skills development
Social opportunities

VOLUNTEERING

We've set out some of our ideas here, but we'd love to hear your thoughts on what community activity should look like at Ellesmere Yard.

- Got other ideas about what could happen?
- Got a community connection we should know about?
- Want to tell us about somewhere inspiring?

YOUR IDEAS...

