Outdoor Cinema Programme

Sandgate Square - Friday September 7th 8.30 pm

A film programme that gives a glimpse of life on the canal, and Burnley the town.

- Walking This experimental short film about Burnley and its people was produced as a means of exploring a changed urban landscape. Made by Dave Halsted & Lisa Thomas 2011
- Life Saving Class Made in 1945 by local film maker, Sam Hanna, this short film features Burnley and the canal. See if you can work out where it was filmed.
- Billy of the Barge This 1930 silent film has a dog come to the rescue of a family on a canal boat. Imagine Lassie on water!
- Barging Along Triangle This classic 1942 film shows life and work on the canal. A premiere of this Burnley-made film that is an examination of visual repetition of the industrial forms that makes the Weavers' Triangle significant to us. Made by Dave Halsted & Lisa Thomas 2012.
- New Fields of Industry A fascinating film showing the industrial and economic aspirations for the area back in the 1950s. Look out for lots of bits of Burnley. Sam Hannah 1957.
- Weavers' Navigation This clip from a longer film beautifully shows working life on canals back in the 1950s.

Thanks to the North West Film Archive for their help.
