Making life better by water

Discover Leeds Waterfront

Parts of Leeds waterfront were once almost derelict. Now regenerated with vibrant waterside cafés and bars, a world-class museum, art galleries and public art, it's a great place to visit.

A little bit of history

Leeds Dock, located on the Aire & Calder Navigation, was once a vast complex of store yards and warehouses busy offloading coal and goods from the barges that plied this wide canal. It was a nerve centre that provided a vital cross-Pennine link from Liverpool to the North Sea via the Aire & Calder Navigation and the Humber.

Five things to do at Leeds Waterfront

- Take a boat trip from Leeds Dock and view the waterfront from the canal
- Visit The Royal Armouries and discover a world-class collection of arms and armour. Look out for exciting activities for kids.
- Take a walk along the towpath to Thwaite Mills (2.7 km/1.7 miles), a water-powered mill which at various times milled rape oil for lubrication and lighting, and crushed wood for dyes and whiting for household products
- Take a look at The Tetley, a stunning art deco building that has great art exhibitions and family art activities
- Pack a picnic, choose a picnic bench overlooking the waterfront and soak up the atmosphere.
