Caring for the Llangollen Canal

We're the charity working to protect and bring to life this 250-year-old network of canals and rivers spanning England and Wales. Not so long ago many canals were abandoned, and some lost forever. Today, with your support, wildlife is recovering, history is alive, boats are plentiful and spending time in this environment is contributing to our health and happiness.

Our mission is to keep this extraordinary network of canals and rivers alive, teeming with wildlife, transforming places they run through and enriching all of our lives. Your support today could help us care for the Llangollen Canal and many more places, for today and generations to come.

The task of protecting the finest examples of working industrial heritage including Grindley Brook Locks, and the wildlife that calls it home, is growing all the time. As a charity we need you by our side more than ever. Please support our work todau.

Keeping history alive

After the Ellesmere Canal Company abandoned its plans to build an arm to Whitchurch in 1800, a group of businessmen worried that Grindley Brook, 2 miles (3km) from the town, might replace Whitchurch as the general market for the area so gave the canal company the money to undertake the work.

The first stretch of the Whitchurch Arm of the Llangollen Canal (formerly the Ellesmere Canal) to Sherryman's Bridge was built in 1808. By 1811 the arm had been extended into the town itself.

Discover lots of fun things to do with the family by and on the water.
