

FESTIVAL

it is without its waterways.

On 22nd February 1819, 60,000 people came to celebrate the opening of the canal. They knew the importance of the canal for the future of their city. Fast forward nearly 200 years and a seminal moment approaches. Towards the end of this decade we will look back on the instrumental role that the waterways played in the growth of our city and will continue to play in the future.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Canal & River Trust, River Stewardship Company and Kelham Island Museum wish to thank the following for their support with the festival.

The businesses based at Victoria Quays; The Victoria Café, The Hilton Hotel, CV Marine, A&G and The Dorothy Pax.

With special thanks to CMS legal, Born + Raised, Counter Context, and Ovo for their generous sponsorship, support and guidance.

CMS legal, the sixth largest law firm in the world by headcount, has had a presence in Sheffield since 1990. As one of the most prominent businesses on the city's waterfront, we are delighted to support Sheffield Waterfront Festival.

Born + Raised is a creative agency based in The Grain Warehouse at Victoria Quays, and is proud to lend its support to Sheffield Waterfront Festival.

ABOUT THE

Sheffield would not be the city

The River Don made the industrial revolution possible. Without the Sheffield and Tinsley Canal, the foundries and workshops that powered the local economy in the 18th and 19th century would not have prospered. They would have been cut off from the wider world.

SAT 23RD SEPT

10AM-4PM

VICTORIA QUAYS

'ON THE WATERFRONT'

Victoria Quays is a hidden gem to the east of the city. It is only a 10 minute walk from the city centre and has so much to offer. Come down to the festival, soak up the atmosphere then take a walk along the green and blue ribbon of the tranquil Sheffield to Tinsley canal.

Join us as Victoria Quays is transformed into a festival of activity, entertainment and colour with stalls, street food and drink, and a whole range of activities!

- Free boat trips throughout the day with the Ethel Trust – sponsored by CMS legal
- Free chartered A&G boat trip leaving at 3pm, running the length of the canal to Tinsley
- Engaging art activities including street art and design for all ages
- Children's games and activities
- Local bands playing throughout the day
- Norah Rogerson art exhibition 'Dereliction to Regeneration' – sponsored by OVO
- Alex Chinneck's 'Smoking Chimney' exhibition
- Free canoe tasters with the Endeavour project
- Stalls from local businesses
